BobTalk

Thank you. An animal song. Here's another song I wrote about twenty years ago, I guess. Another animal song. It's the first animal song, I guess, I wrote. (before Maggie's Farm)

All right. Thank you. You're feeling all right? I wish I felt that good. (after Girl From The North Country)

Thank you. Hanging on to a solid rock. I'd better be hanging on to something. (after Solid Rock)

Thank you. I wanna turn the stage over to one of the guitar players here named Steve Ripley. He's gonna be a very big star, I'm sure. Anyway, he's got a song here called Gypsy Blood. He's gonna sing it for you right now. I hope I can try and get him to sing it for you.

Thank you. Are you still feeling all right? Well, don't wreck it tonight. (after Watered-Down Love)

Thank you. We tried to play a (.....) stuff you might have heard before, maybe some you didn't. Well, I hope you heard something that you came to hear. (at the end of In The Garden)

Thank you. Can hear all right? Does it sound right? Do you feel all right? Oh well, I wish I felt that good. (after I Want You)

Thank you, all right. Any gambling men out there tonight? Any gambling men out there? What? Oh! Oh! Well, you all listen to this song and fold your cards away.

[In response to shouts from the audience]: It's so true, it's so true, really. Anyway, nothing sounds good to me tonight, so we're just gonna try to get through. This is a song we used to do when things got rough. People always can relate to this. I don't know, I can't seem to sing on key tonight. Nobody minds though, do you? All right, yes. (before It's All In The Game)

(.....). Anyway. What? Shot Of Love? (.....). Here's a song we made up that was released as a single. Sold about three copies. I think two of them were sold about here, Combat Zone. Anyway... (before Heart Of Mine)

Right, I'm gonna tell all the...gonna tell all the reviewers from the newspapers...I know this reporter who's gonna write it up, I don't know his name. That song, that particular one's been the most religious song, which has been played up till now. (.....). Called Heart Of Mine. This one is kind of true.

(.....). Won't you come and play on this one? OK, here he is. Ever been on a stage like this before? (before When You Gonna Wake Up)

(.....). We'll try and play this. (before No Money Down)

All right, thank you. Am I singing on key tonight? Am I singing on key tonight? (after Like A Rolling Stone)

Oh, are you feeling okay? All right. I wish I felt that good. If I stayed here long enough I would. (after Man Gave Names To All The Animals)

Thank you. Well, we got many famous people here tonight. Oh, yes. (after Ballad Of A Thin Man)

Thank you. All right. (.....). This is a famous town. Famous for you. Well, is there any gambling men out there tonight? Any gambler, gambling men? We got a song for them. (plays Gamblin' Man) All right. It's so true, ain't it? Ain't it true? Yeah, it's true. It's true today and it's true tomorrow. It's true today. It gotta be true. Always true. Ain't that right?

I think we'll write things up a little bit here. We got a song we released...I see they don't (.....) no more. I know you gotta go. We could play all night. I know you all got someplace to be. Oh yes, you do. Anyway, this is a song that was released a little while back, as a single, single record. Sold about three copies. I'll play it anyway. Well, two of the people who bought it are actually with me. South Philly, is that it? South Philly? What's the difference between North Philly and South? Is there a difference? Right. I bet there is. (plays Heart Of Mine) Thank you. Don't rush out and buy that. I think it might...I think it's out of print.

Thank you. I hope we sang something on key tonight. (.....). Anyway, you drive home safely now. (at the end of In The Garden)

You people look great, you know. Turn the lights on (.....). (before It Ain't Me, Babe)

Thank you, you're great. You all feel pretty good tonight huh? Oh heaven, I wish I felt that good. If I stay here long enough I might feel that good. Oh yeah? All right! So, how you doing? How far you'd come? Is that right? I might be acting a little strange right now. That's because this is a mighty strange place. Oh yes, it is. I ain't seen nowhere like this. Back in the dressing room there, I got a black mirror in my room! I was looking through it just half an hour ago, I see two eyes looking back at me. (before Man Gave Names To All The Animals)

Thank you. You feeling all right? Am I singing on key tonight? I'll try sing this one for you in key. (before Girl Of The North Country)

Thank you. Anybody here tonight paid to get in? What? I can't hear you. Talk up, yeah. I'm glad you're sitting there. Phew! (before Ballad Of A Thin Man)

All right, remember, Jim? We're gonna do this song here. The songwriter who wrote it is here tonight. There's a lot of famous people here tonight. I wanna just tell you that you may be sitting next to somebody that's famous. I know you are. You definitely are. That man over there's famous too, yes he is. (plays Let's Begin) I hope we did that right Jim.

It's easy to say that, but hard to do it. Any gambling men out there? I guess there should be. Yeah! Don't you have a big gambling resort around here somewhere. What's it called? What's that gambling town around here? Reno? Is it Atlantic City? Big gambling town, yeah? Well here's a gambling song for you gambling men. Gambling women too. I don't think any women are gamblers though do you? (before Gambler Man)

"It's a hard rain's a-gonna fall". Well, what happens then when the hard rain falls? You get watered-down love! This is off a big hit selling album. I don't know if it's still out. I'm not sure if it's still in print but ... What's happening? I can't hear you. Yeah, so what time does it need to set it? Oh yeah. Oh, boy! Let's do "Watered-Down Love"?

All right, all right. I want to play We had a single record released a while back. I think it sold about five copies. But I like it so much I just got to play it. Anyway, it sold about three copies right here. (before Heart Of Mine)

All right. I wanna say hello to all the editors of Rolling Stone magazine, oh yeah. All the writers and editors are here tonight I think, checking me out. They're gonna come back stage later, I'm gonna check them out. (before When You Gonna Wake Up)

All right, hello. Thank you. I wanna say hello to Mr. and Mrs. Kooper who are out there tonight. Wherever they are, I wanna say greetings! I'm glad you could make it. Anyway this is Mr. and Mrs. Kooper's relative on keyboards over here. A man I've known for quite some time now. I'm not gonna tell you his name but that's him on keyboards. I should tell you his name anyway. Al Kooper is his name. Played with me twenty years. Maybe some of you heard of him, maybe some of you haven't. A legend in his own time though. On the drums tonight, Jimmy Lee Keltner from Tulsa, Oklahoma. From New Jersey, state of I think he's from, Ashbury Park, New Jersey, on the guitar, Steve Ripley. On the other guitar, Fred Tackett. All right, on the guitar, bass guitar Tim Drummond. On the backing vocals, Clydie, Regina, and Madelyn Quebec. On the other set of drums, also from New Jersey is Arthur Rosoto. Give Arthur Rosoto a big hand. I hope I sung something on key tonight, I really do. (at the end of In The Garden)

Does that sound like the original version? Yeah, sounds just like it, doesn't it? (after Mr. Tambourine Man)

We have a song out in Europe this summer. I don't know if it was released here, but...It climbed to the top of the charts in Europe. It was the flip side of a song that was supposed to be the (foreign) release. So we're gonna do it. We aren't able to do it, but thought we'd...we'll try to do it like we used to do it. (before Let It Be Me)

Thank you. Thanks for coming on out. I hope I sang some on key tonight. (at the end of In The Garden)

This is Ottawa. Everything all right? Are you sure? Everything all right in Ottawa, huh?. Everything all right up here? Oh, you ought to be where I come from, (...), sometimes things aren't all right. (after I Want You)

Maggie's Farm, How many of you are still working on Maggie's Farm?

Thank you. I think that was the way we recorded it? I think it sounds just like the original, don't you? I think it does anyway. (after I'll Be Your Baby Tonight)

All right, any gamblin' men out there in the house tonight? Any gamblers out there? You don't have to always gamble with cards to be a gambler. You can gamble just about anything. Well, here's a song especially for all you gambling men. Hard driving low down gambling men.

What's the name of that song anybody? What? Masters Of War. I got a friend who's a police in New York City, I know I know, it's a funny thing. But every time he puts on his uniform he is ready to die. Everyday just ready to die, every day. Ask them that at any old time. But I got two guys standing down here, they looking this way though. I don't know what's happening down there. You want to get tough, don't get to do it too much. They're getting hung up. You got to stop that hip shaking. He's gonna come right up on the stage if you're not careful.

All right thank you. I ask myself that question every day "Bob when you gonna wake up?" All right I hope I sang some thing on key tonight.

Thank you. You can clap that hard, keep that up. (after It's Alright, Ma (I'm Only Bleeding))

BobTalk

Well, thank you. Time to wake up (...), this time, anybody feel lonely? (after I Want You)

Does anybody here know anything about voodoo? You know who here knows the most about voodoo? I know about black cat crossing your path 'cause today a white cat crossed my path, I now that means something. (after Heart Of Mine)

All right thank you. We got a song here for all the gambling men out there. Any gambling men out there? You gamble with anything you know, not just cards. I know we got some gambling men. Well here's a song just for you. Make you think twice about gambling.

I think that's the way it went. I used to sing that song on the street corner. Never dreamed I'd be singing it in a concert hall. Imagine singing that song on a street corner. Tourists walk by, throw food into the hat. Angel food. Another song I used to sing on the street, never got no money for this one. (after The Times They Are A-Changin')

Thank you. That was a request. Song that we don't usually do anymore. Somebody's birthday. Anyway here's a song that we never do. There's somebody wants to hear this. Somebody wants to hear this, and I'll try to do the best I can. (before It's All In The Game)

Thank you. When you gonna wake up? When am I gonna wake up? I'll wake up one of these days I'm telling you.

Thank you. It's life and life only. Yes it is. Life only. You can kill a man but you can't kill an idea right? Can't kill an idea. I'll try to do this if I can remember the words. (before It Ain't Me, Babe)

We don't have a player playing. Let's have a look at that though. Soon as I get back to my hotel room. All right, ha ha OK. OK we gotta go now. Remember now, don't buy nothing you can't pay for. Ha ha! (before Knockin' On Heaven's Door)

All right, thank you, thank you. Well here's another song about one of my favorite subjects, animals. (before Man Gave Names To All The Animals)

Thank you. All right! Houston, Texas. Houston. Well here's another animal song. This is about the most dangerous animal there can be. (before Maggie's Farm)

Well, I'll do it. (plays Ballad of a Thin Man). Thank you, all right! Yes all right, ha ha ha. Now thank you. Yeah, I figured I had to play that song.

All right thank you very, very much. We gotta, being in Houston I know there's a lot of gambling men down here, isn't that right? Also being a big oil town, a lot of oil down here, right? Hmm, I'm gonna buy me some of that oil. Start me a graveyard. Anyway, this is a song for all the gamblin' men in the house tonight. We usually play this one first every time we go to Las Vegas. Tonight we're gonna stick it in the middle of the show. (before Gamblin' Man)

All right, thank you. The times they are a-changin' still. Not changing fast enough though for some somebody? [shouts from the audience] Huh? Boy that's true, that's true, ain't it. I sure do. Everybody does, I guess so. Yeah, sure do. Even you. (before A Hard Rain's A-Gonna Fall)

Thank you. All right, we gonna have to get out of here now. Gotta catch an airplane well we still can. While the last few airport controllers are still working out here. They're gonna be taken off job pretty soon too. Big computer gonna be put in. Someplace there's man sitting in a room with a big computer, watching everything. (before Knockin' On Heaven's Door)

Thank you. This is Nashville, Tennessee. This is the capital of country music? Is it? Is it the capital of country music? All right, what kind of country music? Well, here's a song about one of my most favorite subjects: animals. (before Man Gave Names To All The Animals)

This is about the most dangerous animal about that there is. (before Maggie's Farm)

All right, thank you. Boy, I remember the first time I ever came to Nashville. I think it was about 1965. My record producer had the bright idea to go down to Nashville. About that time they had ..., they hadn't seen anybody in Nashville with long hair. Does anybody remember that? Nobody had seen anybody with long hair. And when we walked down the street you had to either run or hide. Long hair was kind of a principle. Anyway I went back to my hotel room. The Romana Inn, and instead of going out dancing I sat down and wrote this song. (before Ballad Of A Thin Man)

Is there any gambling men in the house tonight? I don't know if we have any? Do we have any? Yes, gambling men. (before Gamblin' Man)

Thank you, all right. Times they are still changing. They're not changing fast enough though for some people. Anyway, here's another song we used to sing on street corners of all places. I got my training as a singer on street corners can't you tell. (before A Hard Rain's A-Gonna Fall)

(...) well, that's it. Who's here tonight that we can call up on stage? (before Shot Of Love)

All right, thank you. Thank you. Well, yes. I know the other Country Music Hall Of Fame's down here. I know they have it here. They got a Hall Of Fame (...). But you know they don't have a rodeo. A rodeo out thing and they should. Yes, they really should. Hall Of Fame. Anyway, I want to nominate my voice to the first Hall Of Rodeo. All right! Well, yeah one time ... Actually I ought to be in the Country Music Hall Of Fame. I'm that good. Once I came to Nashville, first time I came here. I wanted to be in the Country Music Hall Of Fame. But I never did then. When you want something real bad you usually get it or you don't get it. When you get it either you want to or you don't want it anymore. And when you don't get it you just don't care anymore. (before When You Gonna Wake Up)

Thank you! It's Alright Ma, it's life an life only! That's all it is. That's right. You can kill a man but you can't kill an idea. Isn't that right, you can't. (before It Ain't Me, Babe)

All right, we gotta catch an aeroplane. Ain't got time to take a fast train. Well, I surely hope I sang something on key tonight. Sometimes I do and sometimes I don't. (before Knockin' On Heaven's Door)

Notes

"You can kill a man, but you can't kill an idea," is a quote by Medgar Evers, who was killed in 1963 just hours after President John F. Kennedy's nationally televised Civil Rights Address, the subject of Only A Pawn In Their Game.

Thank you. I've never seen such a big pit before. Was the pit always here? Was the pit always this big? Don't you go down in the pit! (after Like A Rolling Stone)

Is everything all right tonight? Are you sure about that? (after The Lonesome Death Of Hattie Carroll)

Thank you. All right. This is another song about one of my most favorite subjects, animals. (before Maggie's Farm)

You're so quiet I don't even know you're there. This here pit ... you can't beat them with a pit like that. And I've been tempted to fall into a pit, I'm tempted to fall into that pit, but I'm holding on ... (after Simple Twist Of Fate)

Not much has really seemed to change. (after Girl Of The North Country)

Thank you. I know that gambling's not legal down here, but I know there's a lot of gambling people out in the house tonight. Here's a song for them. All the gamblers here tonight, one, two, three, all three of them!

Thank you. Thank you a lot. Here's another song I used to sing on the street corners. Long time ago. Seems like just the other day. I got my vocal training of course on the street corners. Singing, passing the hat. [someone in the audience: Judas! Judas!] Oh yeah. (before A Hard Rain's A-Gonna Fall)

It's life and life only. You can kill a man but you can't kill and idea ain't that right or is that wrong? It's right, you can't kill and idea. (before It Ain't Me, Babe)

BobTalk

Thank you. Man Gave Names To All The Animals. In case you're wondering who did that. It was man. Here's another animal song that I like to do. It's about the most dangerous kind of animal. (before Maggie's Farm)

All right, we got a song for the gambling men in the house tonight. There's a lot of them out there. (before Gamblin' Man)

This is one I used to sing on the street corners, before I made any kind of fame. Fame leads to the record, anyway, that's where I learned to sing, on a street corner. That's why I sing like this. (before A Hard Rain's A-Gonna Fall)

Thank you, Watered-Down Love. Some people just got to water-down everything. Even love. (before Shot Of Love)

Thank you. It's life and life only. (after It's Alright, Ma (I'm Only Bleeding))

That's right! We gotta get out of here now. I got a ticket for an aeroplane. Ain't got time to take a fast train. Lonely days are gone, I'm going home. My baby she wrote me a letter. (before Knockin' On Heaven's Door)

4 new songs (13%) compared to previous concert. 2 new songs for this tour.

Stereo audience recording, 130 minutes.
